Investigative Summary

On January 10, 2022, at approximately 0500 hours, officers from the LVMPD Special Weapons and Tactics team (SWAT), arrived at 3050 S. Nellis Boulevard #21-1125 (The Boulevard Apartments), to serve a search warrant. The warrant was to further the investigation of a homicide that occurred in the Las Vegas area, and a gang related shooting that occurred in December 2021, at the parking lot of The Boulevard Apartments, just east of apartment #1125. LVMPD Homicide and LVMPD Gang Unit detectives were investigating these two separate incidents. The subject listed in the search warrant that was possibly involved was identified as Wattsel Rembert. LVMPD Homicide Detective Grimmert, obtained a search warrant for apartment #1125 and the LVMPD SWAT team was summoned to serve the warrant.

SWAT officers met at an off-site location and held a briefing. Once the officers received pertinent information and their assignments, the team headed to the complex and surrounded the apartment. After several announcements of their presence before making entry, the breach officer began ramming the front door. Officers Rothenburg and Bertuccini were positioned outside of the west window of the apartment and deployed a stun-stick device through the window and activated a distract toward the living room roof. After five attempts with the ram, the SWAT team was able to make entry through the front door.

Event: LLV220100037272

As the team made entry, Isaiah Williams, who was lying on the living room couch, fired a handgun that was equipped with an extended magazine, at the entry team officers. Officer Kubla was the first officer to enter the apartment. Officer Kubla was shot multiple times and fell to the ground. Officer Clements was the second officer to enter, and he sustained a graze injury to his right arm due to a bullet fragment. Officers exchanged gunfire with Williams as he continuously fired his handgun toward the officers inside. Officers Bertuccini and Rothenburg held their positions outside of the west window. Williams aimed his firearm and fired his handgun toward Officer Rothenburg, striking the ballistic shield that Officer Rothenburg was holding for cover. Officer Rothenburg returned fire toward Williams' direction. Williams was struck multiple times by gunfire. Williams became incapacitated and was taken into custody. Medical personnel were called for all injured persons.

A second subject that was in the apartment during the shooting was located and identified as Kwame Crockett. Crockett ran from the bedroom toward the kitchen area as officers made entry. Crockett was eventually taken into custody in the living room by officers without incident. Crockett did not sustain any injuries during the incident. Crockett was later interviewed by detectives and released.

Officers Kubla and Clements were transported to The University Medical Center Trauma Unit for medical treatment. Officer Kubla sustained gunshot wounds from Williams to both his left and right arms, and his right upper leg. Officer Clements was treated for the injury to his right arm and released. Williams sustained multiple gunshot wounds and was pronounced deceased on the scene. The scene was then secured for the arrival of detectives.

Due to the officer involved shooting (OIS), detectives from the Force Investigation Team (FIT) were requested and responded to the scene to conduct the investigation.

Detective Mendoza was assigned as the lead FIT case agent. During the investigation, it was learned that Detective Grimmatt obtained a search warrant for 3050 S. Nellis Boulevard, #21-1125, related to a homicide that occurred on November 18, 2021. Due to the nature of the crime, the involvement of multiple subjects, and the fact that a firearm was used during the homicide, the LVMPD SWAT team was utilized to serve the search warrant.

Once the team made entry, Williams began shooting at the SWAT officers. Williams then fired at the SWAT officers who were positioned outside of the west window. These details were confirmed by the officers' BWC. Multiple angles were observed on several BWC that were activated by the SWAT team during the incident.

FIT detectives and CSI personnel entered the scene to document, photograph, and collect any potential evidence. Numerous expended cartridge cases were located in the living area. A firearm with an extended magazine was located next to a couch. There were numerous bullet defects throughout the living room area and also into the ceiling. Residents who lived in the adjoining apartments were contacted and CSI personnel processed their apartments for bullets and bullet defects that were located in their apartments after the shooting. The west window to apartment #1125 was also photographed and processed by CSI. Several spent cartridge cases were located outside on the ground, along with the bullet fired by Williams that struck the ballistic shield.

Three interior cameras were discovered the living room and bedroom of apartment #1125. These cameras were examined by Digital Investigations Bureau Detective Christopher Kratsas, P# 9996. Detective Kratsas discovered the cameras were Wi-Fi based cameras that were not equipped with micro-SD cards. It was determined these cameras did not record any of the events that occurred inside.

FIT detectives made contact with Williams' mother, Latia Alexander, who arrived at the scene. A recorded interview was conducted by FIT detectives with Alexander. During the interview, Alexander stated her son, Isaiah Williams, was living with some friends since December 2021, but she did not know where Williams was staying. Alexander stated that Williams was currently on probation for possession of stolen vehicle.

Detectives asked Alexander if she saw Williams with any firearms and Alexander stated that although she has not seen Williams with any firearms in person, she has seen social media photos of Williams with firearms. Alexander informed detectives that North Las Vegas Police Department (NLVPD) officers conducted a search warrant at her residence in December 2021. The purpose of the search warrant was to arrest Williams and collect any evidence related to two separate armed robbery cases that involved Williams. Williams was not at the residence at the time the search warrant was executed.

Detectives made contact with The Boulevard Apartments manager, Shaneke Lee, who informed detectives that apartment #1125 was leased by Kehaulani Kamano. Kamano was located on January 16th and was interviewed by detectives. Kamano stated she rented the apartment in February of 2019. Kamano wanted to end her lease in November 2019 but was informed she would have to pay approximately $3000.00 to terminate the lease early. Kamano could not afford to pay the fee, so she moved out and allowed her ex-boyfriend, Bentley Brenden, to live at the apartment. She stated she did not know who was currently living in apartment #1125 and was only waiting for the lease to expire on its own in February 2022. Kamano stated she did not know anyone by the name of Isaiah Williams or Watts Rembert.

Detectives interviewed Kwame Crockett, the subject that was located inside of the apartment during the incident. Crockett stated he was staying the night at his friend "Zay's" residence, who he confirmed was Isaiah. Crockett believed apartment #1125 belonged to Zay's female cousin whom he has not met. Crockett stated he and Williams went to high school together and they recently met at a party. Crockett stayed the night at the apartment, and he did not know any other persons who lived at that residence. Crockett stated he had no idea as to why the police arrived at the apartment and said he was asleep and did not hear anything prior to being taken to the ground and handcuffed.

Detectives contacted NLVPD Detective Knickerbocker who confirmed the information about the search warrant at Latia Alexander's residence. Detective Knickerbocker stated they linked Isaiah Williams with two armed robbery cases they were working. Detective Knickerbocker stated NLVPD had probable cause to arrest Williams for the robberies that also involved a firearm. NLVPD detectives were also investigating other felony cases that Williams was possibly involved in.

FBI Agent McPeak arrived on the scene and utilized a Positive Identification (PID) device to confirm the identity of Williams by examining his fingerprints. Clark County Coroner Investigator Tiffany Brown arrived and documented the body of Williams. Williams was then transported to the Clark County Coroner's Office by Davis Funeral Home personnel.

Officer Rothenburg

On January 12, 2022, at approximately 1008 hours, Detectives Mendoza and Ubbens conducted an audio recorded interview with Officer Rothenburg at LVMPD Headquarters. Also present for the interview were FOP attorney Peter Angulo, Lieutenant Young, and Sergeant Iacullo. Below is a summary of the interview; for complete details refer to the interview transcript.

Officer Rothenburg was assigned to the SWAT Gold Team and assisted the SWAT Silver Team with serving a search warrant at 3050 S. Nellis Boulevard. Officer Rothenburg arrived at the meeting point to be briefed of the details and assignments for the team. Officer Rothenburg stated the search warrant was for a homicide suspect who was armed and dangerous. Officer Rothenburg was assigned with Officer Bertuccini as the 2-man stun stick team, which was assigned to the west window of the apartment. Officer Bertuccini's assignment was to deploy the stun stick and Officer Rothenburg was equipped with a ballistic shield and a handgun.

Once Officer Rothenburg was positioned at the window, he heard his team announce several times, "Police, search warrant!" This announcement was heard from the north side of the apartment. Officer Bertuccini deployed the stun stick inside the window and the SWAT team made entry through the front door. Officer Rothenburg stated an additional distract was deployed outside the apartment near the balcony area. Once the team entered, Officer Rothenburg heard distinct gunshots from inside the apartment. Officer Rothenburg's view was obstructed by the smoke from the distract and the window's blinds and curtains, but he was able to see the muzzle flash toward his team, coming from the northwest corner of the apartment.

Once the smoke from the distracts and the obstructions from the window were cleared, Officer Rothenburg saw Williams' gun, equipped with an extended magazine, pointed toward him. Officer Rothenburg saw muzzle flashes from the Williams' gun and felt his ballistic shield being struck by gunfire. Officer Rothenburg activated his handgun light, saw Williams, and fired approximately three rounds at him. Officer Rothenburg saw that Williams was incapacitated and stopped firing. Officers Bertuccini and Rothenburg checked each other to see if they were struck by gunfire. Officer Rothenburg saw one of his team members had been shot and was being taken out of the apartment.

Officer Rothenburg went to the SWAT armored vehicle and observed the medics giving Officer Kubla medical attention as he had been shot several times. Officer Rothenburg stated he fired his handgun because he felt his life and the lives of his team were in danger and he engaged in gunfire to stop the threat.

Officer Bertuccini and his team were briefed reference a search warrant related to a homicide investigation and received information that one of the two suspects would be at the location of the search warrant. During the service of the warrant, Officer Bertuccini was assigned to the stun stick team which deploys a noise flash diversionary device. Officer Bertuccini's role was to insert the device into the structure after the second search warrant announcement. Officer Bertuccini stated his partner was Officer Rothenburg, who was assigned as cover and who was equipped with a ballistic shield.

The plan called for Officers Bertuccini and Rothenburg to set up on a specific window and for Officer Bertuccini to deploy the distract after the second search warrant announcement was made. Officer Bertuccini explained his assignment was to break the window and place the diversionary device high in the room, close to the ceiling. After the device was activated, Officer Bertuccini was to manually clear the remaining glass from the window.

The device activated along with another nine-bang distract. Once the entry team was inside, Officer Bertuccini heard additional "bangs" which he recognized as gunshots. He saw Officer Rothenburg step to the right and fire approximately two to three rounds towards the corner. Officer Bertuccini transitioned to his handgun, looked into the window, and saw Officer Gonzales over Williams while another officer took an additional suspect into custody. Officer Bertuccini stated he also saw the handgun Williams was holding fall to the ground.

Officer Rothenburg told Officer Bertuccini that his ballistic shield was struck by gunfire twice, so Officer Bertuccini conducted a check of Officer Rothenberg for any possible gunshot wounds. Officer Rothenberg told him one of the other SWAT officers had been struck by gunfire. Officer Bertuccini also noticed a blood trail from the front door. He followed the trail and found that other SWAT officers had taken Officer Kubla away from the apartment. Officer Bertuccini was then assigned as a monitor officer for Officer Rothenburg.

XII. BODY-WORN CAMERA FOOTAGE SUMMARIES

The Axon Flex body-worn camera (BWC) time stamps videos in Zulu Time, also known as Greenwich Mean Time (GMT), which is the world time based on a 24-hour clock. The time is based on the Prime Meridian, which is zero degrees longitude and passes through Greenwich, England.

Officers activated their BWCs at different times during the incident. There is a seven-hour negative difference between the event time and displayed Zulu Time. Axon BWCs also have a "time drift" where the camera's internal clock drifts from actual time based on when the cameras are synced when the camera is docked. Each BWC can display a different time based on a time drift.

The following are summaries of BWC footage from the subject and witness officers who were on scene at the time of the OIS.

Officer Kubla

Officer Kubla was wearing a BWC at the time of the incident and the camera was activated. The camera was collected by Sergeant Iacullo and secured. The video footage captured was later viewed by FIT personnel on January 10, 2022, at 0817 hours.

Officer Kubla's camera footage depicted the following:

Officer Kubla's BWC recording was approximately 16 minutes in length. The footage began with officers boarding their tactical vehicle and were en-route to the apartment complex. Approximately nine minutes later, they arrived at the complex near the target apartment. The team arrived at the front door and announced their presence numerous times. Distracts were also deployed at the west window. The entry officer attempted to breach the door with a ram approximately five times before the front door was finally opened.

Officer Kubla was the first to enter the apartment and located Williams on the couch. Officer Kubla was met with gunfire and fell to the ground. Other officers were seen firing at Williams as he continued to fire his handgun at the officers. The shooting stopped and officers were heard yelling, "suspect down!"

Officer Kubla was carried out of the apartment by the other SWAT officers to the parking lot. Officer Kubla informed the officers he had been shot in his arms and leg. Officers removed Officer Kubla's tactical gear as they applied tourniquets to his arms and leg. Officer Kubla's gear and BWC was removed and placed on the ground. The footage then showed the ground and audio can be heard. Officer Kubla's gear was placed in the tactical vehicle and his BWC was deactivated.

GENERAL INFORMATION:

On January 10, 2022, at approximately 0536 hours, I arrived at UMC Trauma in reference to a follow-up to a Fatal Officer Involved Shooting investigation.

A patient belonging bag and a knotted black trash bag were on the floor adjacent to trauma bay 11. Bloodstained, olive green colored cargo style pants with a black belt around the waist (Item 1) were in the patient belonging bag. There were defects in the front right pocket and the right pant leg on the front and back sides. A money clip (Item 11) was in the front right pocket. US paper currency totaling $203 (Item 13) was in the money clip along with banking cards, an LVMPD employee identification card in the name of Kerry Kubla, a Wex Fleet brand card, and a Nevada Driver's license in the same name (Item 12). The edges of the US currency were torn and all the cards in the money clip contained a defect. There were additional pocket contents in the cargo style pants including: zip ties, a balaclava, keys attached to a paracord keychain, a folding knife, a cell phone, and two tourniquets (Item 9).

Results, Opinions, and Interpretations:

STR Processing

The following evidence was subjected to PCR amplification at the following STR genetic loci: TH01, D3S1358, vWA, D21S11, TPOX, DYS391, D1S1656, D12S391, SE33, D10S1248, D22S1045, D19S433, D8S1179, D2S1338, D2S441, D18S51, FGA, D16S539, CSF1PO, D13S317, D5S818, and D7S820. The sex-determining Amelogenin locus was also examined. Where applicable, STRmix was used for interpretation.

Lab Item 38: Reference Standard from Isaiah Williams

A full male DNA profile was obtained.

Lab Item 40: Swab from a firearm

Number of Contributors: 2, at least one male

Individually Included: Isaiah Williams (Item 38) LR = approximately 5.96 nonillion, 5.96×10^{30}

The probability of observing the mixture DNA profile is approximately 5.96 nonillion times more likely if it originated from Isaiah Williams (Item 38) and one unknown random contributor than if it originated from two unknown random contributors.

Lab Item 41: Swab from a magazine

Number of Contributors: 3, at least two males

Individually Included: Isaiah Williams (Item 38) LR = approximately 5.85 nonillion, 5.85×10^{30}

The probability of observing the mixture DNA profile is approximately 5.85 nonillion times more likely if it originated from Isaiah Williams (Item 38) and two unknown random contributors than if it originated from three unknown random contributors.

Notes and Disclaimers

Administrative:

1. The evidence was returned to secure storage.
2. Dates of laboratory testing: 1/21/22 - 2/1/22
3. This report does not constitute the entire case file. The case file may be comprised of worksheets, images, analytical data and other documents.
4. Refer to the table beginning on the first page of this report for the disposition of the physical item(s) of evidence received and examined by the laboratory. DNA extracts generated for each item, and cuttings taken from the physical evidence for laboratory processing, have been retained by the laboratory. This includes items previously denoted as not having physical sample available for additional testing. Information regarding the volume and quantity of DNA extract remaining is contained in the case file.

Primary Event #: 220100037272
Lab Case #: 22-00679.3

5. The reported DNA profile results can aid in answering questions regarding who may have deposited DNA on an item of evidence and where this DNA was deposited. However, the presence or absence of a DNA profile cannot answer questions with regards to the timeframe and/or circumstances in which the DNA was deposited on an item of evidence.
6. For comparison purposes, please collect reference buccal swab(s) from individuals believed to be involved in (or who have had reasonable access to) this incident. When a reference buccal swab is obtained, please submit a Forensic Laboratory Request in Property Connect to complete the case.

STR Processing:

1. Where applicable, likelihood ratios (LR) were calculated to assess whether each submitted reference standard is statistically included or excluded, individually, as a contributor to the reported DNA profile(s). The reported LR value for an "Individually Included" or "Uninformative" reference standard is reflective of the likelihood ratio calculation associated with the listed individual, without being considered in combination with other reference standards, except where an "Assumed Contributor" is denoted. The LR value answers the question "How many times more (or less) likely is it to observe the evidence DNA profile if the individual listed is a contributor to the DNA profile, than if the person listed is not a contributor?"
2. The number of contributors utilized during STRmix interpretation is the most likely number required to reasonably explain the observed evidence DNA profile. This assessment was made during analysis with consideration of the quality of the DNA profile data.
3. The likelihood ratios are based upon propositions that can explain the evidence. This includes assumptions as to the number of contributors present in the DNA profile and, unless otherwise noted, that each unknown contributor is unrelated to the named reference standards. Since a range of propositions might explain the evidence, either interested party to this case, prosecution and/or defense, may request an additional likelihood ratio that incorporates an additional proposition more accurately representing their position. All requests must be submitted in a timely manner, must be reasonable given the test results, and must be within the capability and validated application of the program used.
4. Statistical probabilities were calculated using the recommendations of the National Research Council (NRC II) utilizing the NIST database (Hill, C.R., Duewer, D.L., Kline, M.C., Coble, M.D., Butler, J.M. (2013) U.S. population data for 29 autosomal STR loci. Forensic Sci. Int. Genet. 7: e82-e83 and Steffen, C., Coble, M., Gettings, K., Vallone, P. Corrigendum to 'U.S. Population Data for 29 Autosomal STR Loci' [Forensic Sci. Int. Genet. 7 (2013) e82-83]. Forensic Sci. Int. Genet. 31 (2017) e36-e40). The probability that has been reported is the most conservative value obtained from the US Caucasian (CAU), African American (AA), and Hispanic (HSP) population databases. All likelihood ratios calculated by the LVMPD are truncated to three significant figures.

The results reported above relate only to the items received and examined. The results are stated under the heading "Results, Opinions, and Interpretations".

Results, Opinions, and Interpretations:

The firearm was test fired and representative images of a test fired cartridge case were entered into NIBIN by Kathy Geil, P# 15650.

The evidence cartridge cases were visually screened into one group based on similar characteristics.

The visual screening examination listed above is a preliminary screening and is not comprehensive or conclusive. Confirmation of visual screening requires microscopic comparison. This can be requested through the submission of a separate Forensic Laboratory Request.

Representative images of the cartridge case from Lab Item 7 were entered into NIBIN by Kathy Geil, P# 15650.

The NIBIN correlations were reviewed by Kathy Geil, P# 15650.

The entry of the test fired cartridge case from Lab Item 1 has resulted in possible association(s) with:

The submitted magazine (Lab Item 34) fits and functions in this rifle and has a capacity of thirty cartridges.

The Colt rifle with serial number LE481773 (Lab Item 35) was examined, test fired in semi and full automatic modes, and determined to be operational with no noted malfunctions. This rifle has a barrel length of approximately 16 13/16 inches, an overall length with the stock collapsed of 31 9/16 inches, and an overall length with the stock extended of approximately 34 13/16 inches (all measurements obtained with the suppressor attached). This rifle has a semi-automatic trigger pull of 6 (+/- 3/4) pounds and a full-automatic trigger pull of 9 1/2 (+/- 3/4) pounds, which were measured using dead weights. The submitted magazine (Lab Item 39) fits and functions in this rifle and has a capacity of twenty-one cartridges. An apparent bullet impact was present on the muzzle end of the suppressor. There was also an apparent bullet impact present on the muzzle end of the suppressor cover with material missing from the right side of the cover adjacent to the impact. Both the muzzle end of the suppressor and the damaged area of the suppressor cover were tested for the presence of lead by Kathy Geil, P# 15650, with positive results.

The Glock model 19X pistol (Lab Item 36) was examined, test fired, and determined to be operational with no noted malfunctions. This pistol has a barrel length of approximately 4 1/16 inches, an overall length with the light attached of 8 3/8 inches, and an overall length with the light removed of approximately 7 1/2 inches. This pistol has a double action trigger pull of 5 3/4 (+/- 3/4) pounds, which was measured using dead weights. The submitted magazine (Lab Item 37) fits and functions in this pistol and has a capacity of nineteen cartridges.

Comparisons

The evidence bullet fragment and bullets were examined and microscopically compared to the test fired bullets from the submitted firearms with the following results:

- The bullet fragment (Lab Item 21) was determined to be consistent with nominal .38, .40, and .45 calibers, to include 9mm Luger, 10mm Auto, 40 S&W, 45 Auto, and 45 GAP. This bullet fragment could not be conclusively identified or eliminated as having been fired from two of the Glock pistols (Lab Items 1 & 27), or from the same firearm(s) that fired Lab Items 22-26, due to damage and lack of repeatable marks. This bullet fragment was eliminated as having been fired from two of the Glock pistols (Lab Items 29 & 36) and the Colt rifles (Lab Items 31, 33, & 35) due to differences in class characteristics. Firearms manufactured with general rifling characteristics similar to those present on this bullet fragment include, but may not be limited to, Bersa, FIE, Girsan, Glock, Heckler & Koch, IMI (Uzi), IWI, Kahr Arms, Sites, & Vektor.

- The five bullets (Lab Items 22-26) were determined to be consistent with nominal .40 caliber, to include 10mm Auto and 40 S&W. These bullets have similar general rifling characteristics as those of the test fired bullets from the Glock model 22 pistol (Lab Item 1), however they could not be conclusively identified or eliminated as having been fired from this pistol, or from a single firearm, due to damage and lack of repeatable marks. These bullets were eliminated as having been fired from the Glock pistols (Lab Items 27, 29, & 36) and from the Colt rifles (Lab Items 31, 33, & 35) due to differences in class characteristics. Firearms manufactured with general rifling characteristics similar to those present on these bullets include, but may not be limited to, Bersa, Glock, Heckler & Koch, IMI, Kahr Arms, and Vektor.

NOTE: The trigger pull uncertainty is based on a combined standard uncertainty multiplied by a coverage factor K=2 providing a confidence level of ~95%.
